

SAFE WATER / BOREHOLE PROJECT

Safe water. Stronger communities.

Help bring water access within reach through Zwab's borehole and water-supply projects.

Community members and Zwab team members gather around a handpump.

Water belongs within reach.

Zwab supports boreholes and other water-supply systems in communities where access to safe drinking water is limited or unreliable.

AN EVERYDAY NEED. A PRACTICAL RESPONSE.

Families need water for drinking, cooking and hygiene. Where access is difficult, the search for water becomes part of daily life. Zwab's safe-water work aims to improve access and reduce the distance families, particularly women and children, travel to collect it.

BE PART OF REACHING OUT

Your contribution can support water infrastructure for communities facing unreliable access. Help turn a shared need into a practical project through Zwab.

A water point. A community purpose.

Zwab's programme supports the construction of boreholes and other water-supply systems to improve access to clean and safe water.

SUPPORT INFRASTRUCTURE PEOPLE CAN USE

A borehole project gives generosity a physical focus: water infrastructure serving a community. The photographs in this magazine show handpumps, collection areas and people gathering around water points as part of Zwab's borehole work.

GIVE TOWARDS WATER ACCESS

Support Zwab's safe-water projects and help make water access part of everyday community life.

See the work. See the community.

Water access supports daily life.

Zwab's safe-water projects aim to improve water access, hygiene and community wellbeing. Your support can help advance those goals.

01

Water within reach

Help support projects that aim to reduce the distance families travel to collect water.

02

Hygiene and sanitation

Help advance access to water that supports hygiene and sanitation in everyday life.

03

Community wellbeing

Support a programme aiming for healthier, more productive communities through better water access.

Give towards a shared essential.

Water connects household routines, school life and community needs. Supporting a borehole project through Zwab is a practical way to contribute to this essential part of daily life.

YOUR GENEROSITY. A COMMUNITY PRIORITY.
